LOCAL GATHERINGS.

—The Imperial Quartette take part in amusement at Barton Landing next Tuesday evening.

—The museum will be open tomorrow evening from 7 to 9. All are cordially invited to come in.

—The following are the advertised letters at the post office: Miss Della Bennett, Geo. G. Gillett, H. S. Smart.

—Sherman Catholic Order of Foresters voted at their meeting Wednesday evening to hold a social evening some time this month.

—Stobinsky & Rosenberg, junk dealers in Paddock's Village, are rushing business. Thursday they shipped two carloads of rags to market.

—Citizens Bank block has been connected with the pond water, and Allison & Davis announce that no river water is used in their restaurant.

—Despite the good sleighing and weather this week, merchants report business a trifle dull, something to be expected at this time of the year.

—A typical "yellow kid" who looks just as if he had stepped out of the New York Sunday World is the attraction in Walker's show window this week.

—A. W. Scott has purchased a large stock of goods of a firm in Massachusetts recently burned out. The goods are only damaged by handling. Read their big ad.

—Manager Bingham of the telephone exchange has distributed cards containing a list of those who have telephones and rules for calling under the number system, the method now used.

—A. F. Walker of the Standard drug store has replaced his music box with a graphophone. Drop fivecents in the slot and hear the machine render a selection from some famous band, singer or story teller.

—About 40 of the friends of Dr. J. M.
Allen dropped in on him unexpectedly last evening to help him celebrate his 29th birthday. A pleasant evening was spent, during which the doctor was presented with a handsome clock.

—Herb Moore took two loads of Academy students to Lyndonville last Friday and Saturday. The barge was finely decorated and drawn by six horses. Tomorrow he drives a barge full of Union school children to Lyndonville.

—The trustees have appointed the following policemen: Albert Caswell, John E. Somerville, Charles Green and C. E.
Lewis. All these gentlemen served on the force last year. The board have organized by electing Mr. Caswell chief and Mr. Green clerk.

—S. L. Moore's fine big barge "Moonlight" took a load of 37 from the Union schools to Lyndonville last Saturday.
Tomorrow he drives a number of Academy students to West Concord. The "Moonlight" with six horses attached makes a No. 1 barge for sleighrides.

—Frank Carr has sold his pacer, A. S. L., to James Brothers of Waltham, Mass., for $800. He purchased the horse about three years ago of A. S. Livingston for $400. The horse has a record 2:22½ made a year ago last fall, and is one of the best horses ever owned in this village.

—A number from this place are attending the Newport musical convention this week and it is expected that quite a party will attend the closing concert this evening. The convention bids fair to be Newport's most successful, with a chorus of about 200 voices and first class foreign artists.

—H. E. & D. Q. Woodruff churned in three days 40 pounds of cream in their United States separator and got 21 pounds of butter before salting it; in other words testing as high as 52½ per cent. Dairymen will be interested to learn that they fed their cows cotton seed meal.

—The Caledonia Firemen's Relief Association ball in Stanley Opera House last Friday evening was one of the best yet.
The concert from 8 to 9 by the American orchestra of Lowell, Mass., was first-class. The audience filled the gallery and the seats on the floor. About 50 couples took part in the dancing. Supper was served by Caterer Atwood.

—A large audience listened to Alexander Black's story, "A Capital Courtship," in Music Hall Tuesday evening. The story was illustrated with a large number of beautiful stereoscopic views. It was Mr.
Black's second appearance in the Y. M.
C. A. house here, and if he should sometime make a third appearance another large audience will surely greet him.

—No new cases of typhoid fever have lately been reported and the epidemic is over. Forty-three cases have been reported to the health officer. A recent exchange speaks of an epidemic of typhoid fever in Canton, Ohio, with 100 cases, probably due to bad water. Canton has a population of 26,189, considering which it isn't having quite as severe an epidemic as St. Johnsbury had. The schools and hotels in that city have changed their water supply.

—At the meeting of the shoe factory stockholders in the Board of Trade rooms Monday evening, 632 shares were represented and of these 630 voted to own the factory building, which was about the only business transacted. The building will be 38x100 feet, three stories high, the first two stories 10 feet high and the last one 9, and will cost about $3,500. The chairman of the building committee, E. L. Hovey, is pushing the work with a force of a dozen men and intends to have the factory up within six or eight weeks.

—The fire alarm sounded about 9:30 Tuesday morning. Fire E. L. Hovey's Assessors Spring house was the cause.
The Sumnerville house company was quickly on the scene followed by No. 5, and the boys were not long in putting out the flames. The fire caught in the spring room around the chimney and broke out in the second story. Had it not been for sawdust picking in the partitions the fire might have been more serious. The damage will not be more than $400 and the house is insured for $2000 in Geo. Moore's agency. The house was occupied by George Burdick and Mr. Burdick was alone when the fire broke out. The furniture was all moved out.

Bon Voyage.—The Republican contains the following account of a pleasant event that took place at the St. Johnsbury House Saturday evening:

"Twenty-seven friends of Editor Stone of the CALEDONIAN gave him a dinner at the St. Johnsbury House on Saturday night, to celebrate his departure, yesterday, for Europe. Landlord Chase set out a fine spread, the variety being excellent, the viands well cooked and served and the tables prettily set. H. N. Turner presided as toastmaster, and brief after-dinner speeches were made by Rev. Dr.
Heath, Prof. Comstock, Rev. Thomas Tyrre, Supt. Kelly, W. P. Stafford, Representative Bates and one or two others.
The occasion was a very enjoyable one—a cordial expression of good will—and Mr. Stone's response attested his appreciation of this pleasant way of saying bon voyage.

years. He was a son of Joseph Rederer,

He left for Barre shortly after the big Railroad street fire and has since been in the tobacco business in that city. He leaves a wife and two children. The fun-

State Board of Pharmacy Meets.— An adjourned annual meeting of the State Board of Pharmacy was held at the Pavilion House, Montpelier, Wednesday. These officers were elected for 1897: President, C. C. Bingham, St.
Johnsbury; secretary, J. G. Belrose, Burlington; treasurer, P. W. Pierce, Chester. These candidates were examined by the board at this meeting. The places and dates for the meetings of the ensuing year are: Rutland, April 7. St.
Johnsbury, July 7, Burlington, October 6, Montpelier, January 4, 1898.

Variety Entertainment.—The St.
Johnsbury Concert company will give a vaudeville and aerial entertainment at Stanley Opera House this evening.
An interesting programme has been arranged. The company announces the special engagement of Miss Josie Mitchell Vickers of Boston, a singing and dancing soubrette. The Bonettes will introduce new and startling tricks on the trapeze.
The entertainment will conclude with dancing. The gold medal that the company offers to the winner of the "Slide for Life" race is on exhibition in Field & Rowell's window.

Death of Mrs. Mead.—Mrs. Laura Kimball Mead of Randolph, who suffered a stroke of paralysis sometime last December, died last Saturday. Mrs.
Mead was the widow of Col. John B. Mead of Randolph, who died about 10 years ago. She was brought up in the town of Randolph, and previous to her marriage in 1880, was for 20 years a teacher in the public schools of St.
Johnsbury, Montpelier and Randolph.
She will be remembered here as a former principal of the Union schools. Mrs.
Mead was one of the best known women in Randolph, where she leaves a large circle of mourning friends, besides the many in this town whose love and respect she always possessed.

Margaret Fuller.—Rarely does a St.
Johnsbury audience have the pleasure of witnessing such real dramatic talent as was exhibited by Miss Margaret Fuller in the Princess of Bagdad, at the Stanley opera house last Monday evening. Miss Fuller's pictures hardly do her justice, for she is a very beautiful woman. Her acting is far beyond anything seen in this town for many years, and her portrayal of the wronged and injured wife, the true mother, and furious scorn and hatred of the man who had caused her so much unhappiness, will not soon be forgotten by those present. Miss Fuller's costumes were rich and beautiful, and she was ably supported by the entire cast of characters. It is to be regretted that a large and representative audience could not have greeted her and shown the appreciation due talent of such a high order.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.—The board of directors will meet next Tuesday evening at 7:30.
Association hall held a large audience of men last Sunday. Rev. L. C. Mc-Kinstry of Massachusetts gave an interesting address on "The Redemption," illustrated by paintings.

The religious work committee have arranged for some interesting men's meetings during February. Sunday, the 4th, will be observed as a day of prayer for the state work in Vermont and New Hampshire. On Feb. 21 Gen. O. O.
Howard will visit the association and deliver an address to young men. Henry O. Aiken, general secretary of the Y. M.
C. A. of Dartmouth college, will be the speaker on Sunday, Feb. 28.

The gymnasium classes under Director Swan are doing good work. The interest in the evening classes is particularly good, and if many more members join a larger gymnasium will be needed.

The educational committee are arranging a course of lectures on topics of general interest; free to members. Subjects and dates will be announced later.

The membership committee will meet this evening at 7:30.

The next lecture in the course will be given by W. H. McElroy of New York on Friday, Feb. 19.

A Topical Soliloquy.

(With apologies to the late William Shakespeare.)
To drink or not to drink—that is the question;
Whether 'tis better for the body to imbibe Of Passumpic's putrid stream, And thus end all the ills of life And soar away to fields Elysian; Or to abstain from water's use And thus avoid them?
Though it has oft put men into a trance, A potion blended by "St. Ives" hands Would not produce so long a sleep.
To die—to drink
No more of microscopic bacilli, And thus escape the countless pills And doctor's bills
To which our flesh is heir.
To die—to drink bacterian germs And rid ourselves of earthly toil By shuffling off this mortal coil.
And go by rapid transit to that bourne From which we never shall return—That is the question, "in solution."

Dartmouth College Notes.—Rev. O.
